Aquatic Invasive Species Acknowledgement

Lake Mead National Recreation Area requires your assistance in helping prevent the spread of aquatic invasive species (AIS). In 2007, Quagga mussels were discovered in Lake Mead. This introduction as well as other invasive plants and animals have, and will continue to cause environmental and economic damage to lakes Mead and Mohave and the Colorado River region. Therefore, as a responsible angler, you are being asked to Clean, Drain & Dry all of your equipment before entering, and upon leaving lakes Mead and Mohave. As stated in the permit, vessel owners are also required to become familiar with and abide by state AIS laws set forth by both Nevada and Arizona. All water craft/vessel owners will:

- REMOVE any visible mud, plants, fish or other animals from every part of your boat trailer and equipment.
- ELIMINATE all water from your boat, including its live- wells, ballast, hull and engine- cooling water
- CLEAN, DRAIN, AND DRY everything that came into contact with lake water (including boats, trailers, equipment, etc.)
- NEVER release plants, fish, or other animals into a body of water unless they came from that same body of water

I acknowledge my responsibility as an angler regarding the prevention and spread of AIS:
