RaceQs Race Tracking

Participants are encouraged - but not required - to use the RaceQs mobile phone application to track their race and to enable viewing of fleetwide results in near real time. (We'd like to display the race tracker and replay on the big screen upstairs during and after the racing.) To maintain fairness, tracking results are delayed by 5 minutes.

The Full Moon Series race replay site hosted by RaceQs is located at:

There is no cost for this service but you must set up a free account for your boat and install a free iOS or Android application to enable race tracking via your phone's GPS. In most cases the GPS tracking will still work even if your phone is safely stowed below deck.
