

J/22 Midwinter Championship

March 27-29, 2015

Jackson Yacht Club

Ross Barnett Reservoir, Jackson, MS

Jackson Yacht Club and Fleet 63 on the Ross Barnett Reservoir are looking forward to hosting for the first time the J/22 Midwinter Championship at the end of March. Early entry fee of $275 extends to February 28, 2015 then steps up to $350. For the Midwinters Championship the class has allowed to suspend class rule 8.9 so there is no limit in total crew weight. Up to nine races are planned for the three day regatta.

Jackson Yacht Club is located on the southwest bluff of the Ross Barnett Reservoir. Referred to by the locals as the "REZ" the 33,000 acre body of water is relatively shallow around 16' deep. The races will be conducted in the southern area. Good breeze is common this time of the year. Early spring fronts move through bringing wind out of the north and clocking southerly as the predominate direction. A north east breeze chops up the water a bit and the runs are a fun ride.

Fleet 63 and the Jackson Yacht Club prides itself in genuine southern hospitality. There will be eating, drinking, and joyful sounds all around.

Running along the west bank of the REZ is the historic Natchez Trace Parkway National Park which will be in full bloom and has over 60 miles of scenic trails.

Close by in the Ridgeland Township is where the regatta hotels are located along with wonderful dining and unique shopping. For more information check www.j22mw.com and www.visitridgeland.com
