

Georgetown's winning 'A' crew of Nevin Snow and Katia DaSilva roll-tack for the finish

Rose Bowl 30th annual
Regatta Rose Bowl Regatta

Jan. 3-4, 2015

Hosted by U.S. Sailing Center and Pacific Coast Sailing Foundation Host school: USC Varsity Sailing Team

Jan. 4, 2015

Sunday's weather: Sunny; wind 2-8k NW-SW; temp. 61F.

Newport Harbor ends Point Loma's reign

LONG BEACH, Calif.

While Georgetown University coasted to a comfortable defense of its College championship in the 30th Rose Bowl Regatta Sunday, Newport Harbor High School kept its foot on the gas to close Point Loma's eight-year reign in the High School Gold class.

The Sailors' (that's their appropriate nickname) B team of Campbell D'Eliscu and Madeline Bubb matched the efforts of the A team's Sean Segerblom and Briggs D'Eliscu (Campbell's kid brother) in winning the first and last of their eight races over two days, and also notched two firsts and a second as NHHS swept the Gold A and B groups.

Fordham U.'s Emma Huntress hikes hard for skipper Olin Paine

Newport Harbor HS's Campbell D'Eliscu and crew Madeline Bubb took a chance for a jump at the start

Cathedral Catholic of San Diego repeated as winner of the High School Silver class.

Thirty college teams coast to coast and 62 Gold and Silver high schools all sailed 13-foot, 3-inch two-person CFJ dinghies off the beach at the Belmont Veterans Memorial Pier in the major youth sailing event hosted by the United States Sailing Center and Pacific Coast Sailing Foundation.

D'Eliscu and Bubb made the most of it with a first and second in the last three races, wrapped around an 11th. A bold last-second burst at the line launched their first place, but when they tried to match it the next time . . .

"We were over early," D'Eliscu said.

But by the end of the day it didn't matter. Bold moves often pay off.

"It was a big thing to win this at the start of the year," D'Eliscu said, "especially among some amazing people."

Those included A.J. Reiter, skipper of Georgetown's B boat with Isabelle Luzuriaga as crew. Like many of the competitors, Reiter and Luzuriaga were Californians racing for Eastern schools.

Unlike most Easterners, "We're very lucky to sail all year," Reiter said.

The weekend conditions weren't entirely easy as the teams urged limited knots of speed out of their boats in Saturday's gentle breeze, and Sunday started worse with 2-4 knots from downtown Long Beach to the northwest before fading completely in early afternoon.

That was a good sign, because soon a steady 8 to 9 knots filled in from the locally reliable southwest to pick up the pace.

Georgetown thus remained a close second

Georgetown's Snow and DaSilva lead at weather mark

NHHS's D'Eliscu and Bubb roll-tack in light wind

Hi-res photos attached

Sponsors

in the national college standings to Yale, which didn't venture West this time, and added the trophy to the World University Championships it won in Italy last summer.

Top finishers

College: 1. Georgetown University, 52 points; 2. U.S. Coast Guard Academy, 89; 3. Fordham U., 98.

High school Gold: 1. Newport Harbor, 61; 2. Corona del Mar 105; 32. Point Loma, 107.

High school Silver: 1. Cathedral Catholic, 79; 2. Windward School, 95; 3. The Bishop's School, 101.

Complete results

The US Sailing Center, once envisioned solely as a training site to help sailors fulfill their Olympic dreams, has developed into a center of training for sailors of every ability, from developmental clinics and hosting of world-class regattas to coaching area high schools and the USC collegiate sailing team. Programs also include Youth At-Risk activities, Learn-to-Sail classes for all ages and disabled sailing opportunities through the center's own Disabled Sailing Association. Learn more

Regatta website

The entries

Sailing World college rankings

PCISA high school standings

www.uscsailing.org

United States Sailing Center
(562) 433-7939
www.ussclb.org

MEDIA CONTACT

Rich Roberts
310.835.2526
cell 310.766.6547
richsail@earthlink.net

